DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Field in view of Gadoua.

Field discloses a delivery system comprising a member 3, means 5 for attaching the member 3 to fabric to form a pocket 4 and an absorbent pad 7 arranged such when the flexible member is attached to a piece of fabric, a pocket is formed shaped and sized such that the pad may be received and held securely within the pocket but is removable. The pad would be removable because it is inserted into the pocket after the system is mounted on the fabric. Field does not disclose the member 3 being flexible. Gadoua teaches a delivery system comprising a flexible member 18 and means 20 for attaching the flexible member to fabric to form a pocket. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the device of Field by making the member to be flexible as has already been taught by Gadoua. Claims 8-10 are statements of intended use.

Conclusion

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The patent to Wanzenbock is pertinent to Applicant's invention.

Art Unit: 3752
